PUBLISHERS' NOTICE.

IN issuing the MISSIONARIES' ANGLO-CHINESE DIARY FOR 1893 it may be well, by way of apology, to mention two of the difficulties attending its production. In the first place, when it was determined on to issue an 1893 Diary, it was too late to procure suitable materials from home; then the absence of the Rev. G. F. FIRCH in the U. S. A. on furlough, with the consequent want of leisure on the part of the one left in charge, rendered impossible that thorough preparation and careful supervision necessary in issuing such a work for the first time. We trust, however, that this Diary, with its blemishes and defects, may be the prelude of more satisfactory helps in the years to come.

We would heartily thank the various friends who gave us the benefit of their advice in drawing up the tables, particularly to Rev. W. P. CHALFANT of Ichowfu, and Rev. F. H. CHALFANT of Weihien. Neither would we forget the worthy C. I. M. brother, now in another land for the benefit of his health, to whom is largely due the inception of the idea. From these and many other friends we hope to get advice as to how future issues may be improved and better adapted for the end in view. Whilst it will be impossible to please every one, we will do our best to improve the Diary for the benefit of all.
